

Genesis 1:1-2: Questions our group asked

1. Did something happen after God created the heavens and the earth to make the earth formless and void?
2. In Genesis 1:2, was the whole earth entirely water, and is that considered good?
3. Is there a conflict between the earth being formless and void, and the presence of water ?
4. Is there a conflict between darkness being over the deep, and the Holy Spirit hovering over the waters?
5. Is there a time gap between Gen 1:1 and Gen 1:2? Is there something in the Hebrew that would suggest that?
6. How does 2 Pe 3:5 relate to Gen 1:1-2?
7. Why is the Spirit on the scene and not the Lord Jesus Christ
8. What does “the beginning” in Genesis 1:1 refer to? The beginning of WHAT? Time. Earth, man, or something else?
9. Does Genesis 1:1-2 describe stages: Created, formless and void, deep, waters?
10. Was Satan frozen under the earth in the frozen water (ice)?
11. Why is waters plural? Shouldn't it be one body of water?
12. “created” is past tense in Gen 1:1. Does Gen 1:1 describe conditions right after Gen 1:1?
13. What heaven was created?
14. What do the Hebrew words for “formless and void” mean?
15. Is God in Gen 1 Jesus Christ?
16. What does the Hebrew word for “darkness” mean?
17. Why is darkness only over the surface of the deep?
18. What is the significance of the Spirit moving over the waters?
19. Why did creation take 6 days?
20. What is Satan's status with God in Genesis 1:2?
21. How do the dinosaurs relate to this passage?
22. When did Moses write Genesis? Why? Who did he write it for?
23. Is time relevant to Genesis 1? When did time as we understand it begin?
24. Could there be a gap of time between Gen 1:2 and Gen 1:3? How about later on?
25. How long were Adam and Eve in the garden before they fell?